the part that gave to TU
a social life,
an academic life,
an extra-curricular life,
an athletic life,
a fraternal life . . .
he was surrounded by three thousand two hundred and sixty one and yet he was an individual . . .
he entered with 980 other freshmen but still felt uncertain . . .
he studied, put off studying, crammed,
then vowed to do it on time next semester . . .
he worked to pay his tuition and felt overloaded . . .
he performed on-stage, worked backstage,
but didn't know where to find time . . .
he relaxed at dances
but couldn't stand the confusion . . .
he questioned everyone and everything and formed his own opinions . . .
like everyone else and yet
unlike anyone else . . .
he became a part of the University of Toledo and then he left . . .
to become, this time,
a teacher,
an engineer,
a med student,
but above all,
a TU alumnus . . .
it is to him,
the integral part of TU,
that we dedicate
the Blockhouse, volume 36.

 undirected conversation,

president knowles

Dr. Asa S. Knowles came to the University of Toledo on Jan. 29, 1951 as its ninth president. President Knowles is a native of Maine. His education was obtained at Thayer Academy, Bowdoin College, Boston University, and Harvard Business School. He holds the degrees of bachelor of arts, master of arts, and honorary doctor of laws conferred on him by both Bowdoin College in 1951 and Northeastern University in 1957. Dr. Knowles held positions at Northwestern University and the University of Rhode Island and was President of the Four Associated Colleges of Upper New York. Prior to coming to Toledo, he was vice-president in charge of development at Cornell University.

Dr. Knowles is well known for his articles and textbooks. He is listed in Who's Who in America, World Biography, and other biographical references. He is also a member of Phi Kappa Phi, Tau Beta Pi, Beta Gamma Sigma, Blue Key, Alpha Kappa Psi, and Chi Psi. In addition, students find that President Knowles is willing to discuss their problems with them.

board of directors

The Board of Directors of the University of Toledo consists of well-known Lucas County residents, appointed by the Mayor of Toledo. The responsibility of the Board is to set up the general policy for the operation of the University. Meetings of the Board were held once each month in the President's office. Board members were also found at such important occasions as groundbreaking for the new union.

Walter A. Eversman has been president of the Board since 1948. Nolan Boggs was vice-president of the Board. In their second year on the Board were John D. Biggers and James P. Falvey. Twenty-six years of service have been given by G. Kenneth Keller. Ward M. Canaday was appointed to the Board in 1953. Preston Levis, chairman of the board of the Owens-Illinois Glass Company, has been on the Board for four years. This was Jules D. Lippman's tenth year on the Board. Mrs. Arthur L. Zepf was appointed in 1954. Miss Mary Curtas has been secretary to the Board since 1952.

All University students know they have two good people to talk their problems over with in M. Kathryn Schwab, Dean of Women, and Donald S. Parks, Director of Personnel and Dean of Students. Dean Schwab is the adviser for both Peppers, women's honorary, and the Panhellenic Council. One of her duties is to approve all fraternity and sorority events. She also keeps track of University social events. You will find that Dean Schwab always will take time from her busy schedule to help a student. Dean Parks is the adviser for Interfraternity Council, as well as numerous other groups on campus. Although many of his extra hours are given up to speeches for the University, he still seems to find the time to just stop and chat with students, either in the halls or in his office. No matter what kind of problem they have, students know they can turn to these people. Arnold E. Hanson is the Dean of Academic Administration for the University of Toledo. As Comptroller and Treasurer of the University, James D. Bain continued to do an excellent job.

Dr. Wilhelm Eitel is the Director of Silicate Research here at the University of Toledo. The Dean of Research and Special Services is Archie N. Solberg. The Director of Summer Sessions, Charles J. Kirschner, is well known to all students from both TU and other schools. Richard R. Perry is one of the first officers of the University's administration whom incoming freshmen and transfer students meet. His position is that of Director of Admissions. This job entails visiting the high schools to try to interest students in attending the University. June B. Winslow is another man whom many students come to know well during their college years, for he holds the position of Director of Scholarship. He gives welcome advice to students on scheduling and courses, as well as their grades.

The Director of Public Relations at the University of Toledo is Dr. Jesse R. Long. Dr. Long is also adviser to the Campus Collegian, the student newspaper. The University's new Director of Student Activities is Mr. Raymond Waldkoetter, who took over the duties previously held by Murray Stahl. Mr. Waldkoetter came to Toledo last summer from the University of Indiana, where he served as a counselor. The hectic position of University Registrar is under the control of Mrs. Alina Markowski. Mrs. Markowski and her office staff are in charge of all student records, grade cards, transcripts, and faculty class records. Dr. Ralph C. Kendall, the Director of Evening Sessions, has charge of about 3,000 students enrolled in night classes. Mrs. Mary M. Gillham is the University Librarian.

Upon entering the University, you may have been undecided as to what college you wished to enter or what career was meant for you. Glenn Mowers, Guidance Director, was available for counseling and testing to assist you in your decision. If you needed a part time job to help pay tuition and expenses, you were sent to Edward Jackson, who also has charge of all alumni affairs. English problems occasionally confronted you as an entering freshman; Brenton Stevenson, Faculty Editor and associate professor of English, was there to help. Dr. Horace Gordon, head of the infirmary, was easily accessible to you, if your problem concerned health. Some of your problems may have been concerned with the maintenance of the campus or buildings; then you sought out Wayland Byers, Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds and Purchasing Agent.

The head of the College of Arts and Sciences is Dean Andrew J. Townsend. Students in this college receive a general background of basic courses their first two years; they spend their last two years in a specialized course.

Many of the students in Arts and Sciences are working toward further study in the following fields: Medicine, Dentistry, Veterinary, Pharmacy, and Law. Students in Medical Technology intern at Toledo hospitals after three years of work in the College of Arts and Sciences. Preparing students for dental and medical schools has been an important part of this college since 1930. Prestige is added to the college because students who have attended the University of Toledo have achieved exceptionally good results in medical schools throughout the United States. The Toledo Museum of Art gives most of the classes for students majoring in art. These art courses may also be applied individually toward a degree.

The aim of the College of Arts and Sciences is to provide students with a background of general knowledge and an interest in the main fields of human achievement and thought, so that they can live more adequate professional and business lives and make more of their leisure time and civic responsibilities.

DEAN ANDREW J. TOWNSEND

"To create interest in radio work and to bring out hidden talent" is the motto of the University Radio Workshop. This year, a number of plays were presented over radio station WTOL. These scripts came from books, plays, and copy-righted radio scripts. First semester was filled with the hard work of polishing the programs for presentation. Workshop members wrote their own scripts, directed their own plays, created their own sound effects, and did their own technical work.

The studio, found on second level, was headed this year by Paul Grill, president and Carol Wolman, secretary.

fine arts

"To bring before the campus work of the fine arts student in his selected field, and to encourage the growth of this student in gaining a better understanding of the arts field beyond his own" is the motto of this organization.

A trip to Cranbrook Academy of Art, a winter holiday, the Beaux Arts Ball, Fine Arts Open Night, an exhibition of art and creative literature, a Senior Farewell, and a lawn exhibit at the Museum Park were dates filled this past winter and spring.

Monthly meetings brought forth works which the members had done. Many times during the year, exhibitions were found in the library tunnel, faculty lounge, Student Union, Westwood Art Theatre, and Art Museum.

Club leaders were Harriet Liebes, president; D'Arcy Orde, secretary; J. Phillip Zaugg, treasurer; Marion Ewing, programs; Helen Szyrman, awards; Judy DeMars, librarian; Win Rogers, publicity.

mu phi epsilon

Mu Phi Epsilon, national music honorary for women, boasts scholarship, music ability, and the promotion of friendship as its purposes. A person elected to Mu Phi Epsilon must show good character and personality as well as musical aptitude.

Musical programs for various institutions, a spring recital program at the Toledo Museum of Art, and an open party for Freshmen women in music made a well rounded extra-curricular year. Meetings of the honorary were interesting and entertaining, as well as informative. They consisted of performances by members, discussion of various types of music, and the singing of folk songs.

The aims of Mu Phi Epsilon are the advancement of scholarship, and the development of a true sisterhood.

Officers of Mu Phi Epsilon were Harriet Liebes, president; Carolyn Wasserfuhr, vice-president; Barbara Ginther, secretary-historian; and Mary Ann Kramer, treasurer. Miss Doris Schieber is the faculty adviser.

The Ellen H. Richards Club provided an opportunity for students interested in home economics to meet others with similar interests. This organization was founded to further the study of professional home economics and home-making.

The Club had a well-rounded social calendar this year which included such activities as the regional meeting, the father-daughter tea, the foreign student Valentine Party, and the mothers' tea and style review.

The organization was under the direction of Penelope Burkey, president; Carolyn Hillibarger, vice-president; Sandra Powell, secretary; and Jean Tallman, treasurer.

pi gamma mu

Pi Gamma Mu is an honorary social science society, established on the University of Toledo campus in the year 1924. The purpose of this society is to study social sciences and create new interest in the study of human association and welfare. To be eligible for membership, one must be a Junior, Senior, Graduate, or faculty member. In addition, a student must have 20 hours in the social sciences to his credit and a 2.0 average.

The group has held several open meetings; one of these, "Attitudes in Prejudice," was particularly interesting. The society publishes a journal, "Social Science," and annually gives a $250 scholarship to the members of Pi Gamma Mu.

Dr. Janina M. Adamczyk has been the adviser for this organization. The officers for this year included Delores Goldberg, president; Linda Mayo, vice-president; Carmella Kaiser, secretary; and Richard Carley, treasurer.

DEAN CLAIR K. SEARLES

business administration

As dean of the College of Business Administration, Dr. Clair K. Searles' job is to help maintain the high standards of all eight departments in the college; the departments are Accounting, Commerce, Finance, Journalism, Management, Marketing, Secretarial Science, and Statistics. All classes in these departments stress the fundamentals of organization, policy formation, supervision, finance, accounting, office management, and selling to the public. Since 1930, the College of Business Administration has been providing its students with the knowledge necessary to obtain a rewarding job. Graduates have been placed in varied fields, including technical, supervisory, and executive positions; also in such things as public enterprises, non-business organizations, and government agencies.

To gain the liberal background needed for future work, the Business Administration student takes basic courses in English, physical education, and hygiene. Nearly half the curriculum is composed of non-professional courses. In addition, the student must take twenty-one hours in a field of specialization. The most important objective of the College of Business Administration is to prepare the student for something specific after graduation, regardless of departmental limitations.

"To foster the highest ideals of good business" is the purpose of this oldest and largest professional fraternity. Unlike most college societies, Alpha Kappa Psi provides both the advantages of fraternity affiliation, and the usual benefits which accrue to membership comprised exclusively of men interested in business.

The old proverb, "All work and no play," could not be used in reference to AKPsi this last year. A formal initiation dinner-dance at the Secor Hotel, a Founders' Day dinner at the Toledo Express Airport, and a tour of the Ford Motor Company helped to make a rounded program.

One of the main events of the year was the fourth annual Job Conference in the Student Union. This conference was an aid to all students in keeping abreast with changes which were taking place in industry and commerce. Talks on accounting and finance were given by Mr. Waldo A. Rogers, who is assistant vice-president and Director of Personnel of the Toledo Trust Company, and Mr. H. B. Schrock of Ernst and Ernst Public Accountants. Mr. Frank Voss, Director of Public Relations, Spicer Division of the Dana Corporation, spoke on market advertising; Mr. J. Donald Ross, president of the Lion Store, on retailing; Mr. Ralph Boerner, Director of Industrial Relations, Textileather, on management; and Mr. Ben Landers, Director of Personnel at Libbey-Owens-Ford, on industrial management.

Officers for Alpha Kappa Psi this year were Bob Puhl, president; Bob Hastings, vice-president; Ric Harner, secretary; Jim Kennedy, treasurer.

Dr. George E. Dickson was named dean of the College of Education in September of 1957. Dr. Dickson holds a Bachelor of Arts from Central Washington College of Education and a Master of Arts and Doctor of Education from Stanford University. As Dean he heads one of the largest colleges at Toledo University. Last fall's enrollment in Education was 1191, including 375 night students.

Since 1915, the College of Education has done an excellent job of fulfilling its purpose, which is simply to prepare students for their teaching profession. Seniors do their practice teaching, one semester in secondary and two semesters in elementary, in Toledo schools.

There is a Teacher Placement Bureau associated with the University which gives students their first positions, usually in Toledo or Lucas County. Graduates from this college can qualify for a teaching certificate in almost all of the forty-eight states, but most of them can be found teaching in either Ohio or Michigan.

The College has a graduate division which has continually expanded since its beginning. This division gives those who qualify for the program a chance to obtain more advanced teaching positions or to receive an assignment in the administration or supervision of the schools.

Pi Mu Epsilon is a national honorary fraternity organized to advance the study of mathematics. To qualify for membership, a student must have advanced in mathematics beyond calculus. Another prerequisite is that the prospective member belong to Delta X, a mathematics organization on campus.

Pi Mu Epsilon is primarily interested in promoting interest in the math field. It also strives to encourage its members to become outstanding in other fields. Members must maintain a 2.5 average in mathematics and a 2.0 in all other college subjects.

This fraternity also plans its activities so that its members may broaden themselves socially. This year the fraternity organized its social calendar to include such events as a combined picnic and meeting, scheduled during the late spring. Pi Mu Epsilon also had a schedule of regular business meetings.

During the 1957-1958 school year, the fraternity has been under the able direction of Dr. Richard W. Shoemaker, a faculty adviser. The vice-director, or presiding officer, was Mr. William Frederick. Mr. Carl Hutter served as the organization's secretary, and treasurer was Mr. Richard Marleau.

Delta X is a society founded to stimulate interest in college mathematics and to promote fellowship among all students who hold a common interest in mathematics. Membership in Delta X is open to all mathematics students who have advanced through analytic geometry.

Each month, Delta X had dinner meetings with prominent speakers. The dinner was prepared and served by club members. In addition, the members made speeches and movies were shown; this all contributed to the advancement of the theory and knowledge of mathematics.

At the end of the academic year, Delta X held a banquet, where the officers for the coming year were elected. This year Delta X has been under the able direction of Richard Marleau, president, and Rita Roesner, vice-president. Harry Pachey has been acting in the capacity of secretary. Faculty supervision has been provided for Delta X by Mrs. Violet Davis. These officers, with the help of the adviser, guided Delta X through a successful and informative year.

The Ohio Students Education Association has completed another successful year. This organization has been actively planning and working toward making themselves one of the leaders among other organizations of its type in Ohio. By sending delegates to the state Conference, the Toledo chapter showed the ambition and initiative it possesses.

OSEA works with students in the College of Education to foster interest in the teaching profession and encourage professional attitudes and ethics. It strives to develop skills necessary in persons intending to teach. At their meetings students gained first hand knowledge from qualified speakers on the techniques and skills which must be a part of their background before they can begin teaching.

The students learned not only from their peers, but also experimented and found new ways to improve standards in the teaching profession of tomorrow.

This year, the one hundred and twenty-five members of the Toledo chapter aided the area high school chapters by inviting them to the University and showing them various ways of making improvements in their own clubs. In this way they hope to improve the interest and understanding of the students who will attend the colleges and universities of America.

Officers of the Toledo chapter this year were Claudette Haddad, president; Delores Goldberg, vice-president; Joan Cruse, corresponding secretary; Judy Lippold, recording secretary; and Jon Jacobs, treasurer. Dr. Henry Boss and Edward Wickes were advisers.

The purpose of the College of Engineering, established in the year 1931, is to prepare students for present and future industrial and community life, and to provide a basis for graduate work in many specialized fields. Five different four-year courses are offered by the College. The degrees given in these courses are Bachelor of Science in Chemical Engineering, Civil Engineering, Electrical Engineering, Engineering Physics, and Mechanical Engineering. Mechanical Engineering offers two options to its program, Aeronautical Engineering and Industrial Engineering. Classes in mathematics, science, and the humanities are included in the required part of the curriculum. Through these classes the student is given a broad background and a necessary understanding of the social aspects.

Over half the work in this college is common to everyone in the Engineering course, while the remainder of the work depends entirely on the particular field in which the student plans to specialize.

In 1952, the University of Toledo established the Institute of Silicate Research. This engages in basic research and along with the Graduate Division, offers programs through which one can obtain the Master of Science degree.

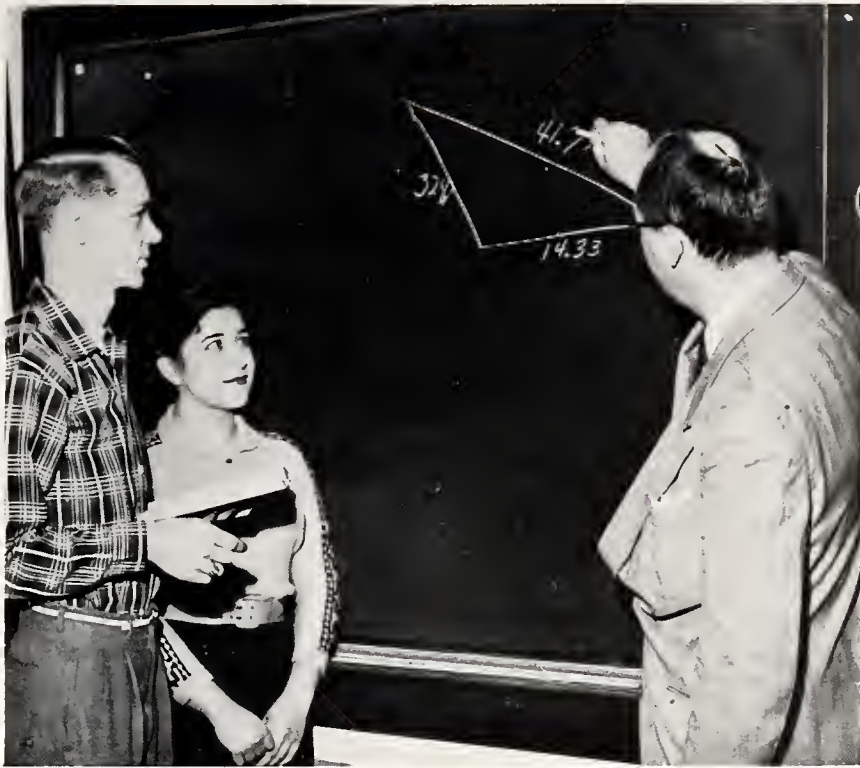

W. S. Smith served as acting dean of Engineering this past year.

Tau Beta Pi is an Engineering honorary on T.U.'s campus. To become a member of this, one must have obtained one of the highest scholastic averages in the Junior or Senior class in the College of Engineering. A Junior must be in the upper one-tenth of his class. Seniors must rank in the upper one-fifth. Membership is not based on scholarship alone. Students must also have proved themselves to be outstanding in traits of character and integrity. Twice during the year, a banquet was given. At these banquets, prominent persons in the engineering field spoke on interesting topics related to the goals and interest of the organization. Tau Beta Pi has 92 active chapters. The local honorary was installed February 20, 1954, as the Ohio Zeta chapter of Tau Beta Pi, national engineering honorary. Officers this year were Kenneth Friddell, president; Robert Venia, vice-president; William Frederick, recording secretary; Ki Punches, secretary; and George Pankratz, was the treasurer.

Dr. Charles W. Fornoff is the dean of the College of Law. The faculty is composed of full-time members in addition to members of the bench and bar of Toledo. These extra members provide the students with a widespread field of knowledge.

The curriculum is devised to give the student the background needed for entering modern law practice. Courses in subjects included in the Ohio State Bar examinations are regularly offered. Students who receive credit for seventy-six hours of law work are eligible for the Bachelor of Laws degree.

On the third floor of the University Library, one can find the law library containing some 26,000 volumes. This collection is the largest in Northwestern Ohio. Also in the library is the moot court room, named in memory of the late Dean Charles W. Racine. Here students have an excellent place for practice in presenting cases.

Final approval of the American Bar Association was given the Toledo College of Law in 1914, when it became a member of the Ohio Law Schools. Its graduates have a very good record in passing the state bar examinations in Ohio and in neighboring states.

The facilities of the college have been built up in accordance with the policy of keeping abreast of the rising law standards.

student bar association

All students enrolled in the College of Law automatically become members of the Student Bar Association. The organization was founded for the purpose of providing its members with the extra-curricular activities which comprise an essential part of a legal education, and for developing those aims and ideals necessary for persons soon to enter the profession of law. The Student Bar Association at the University is affiliated with the American Law Student Association.

An active group, the organization has carried through a schedule of many activities. For example, it has shown the films, "Pre-Trial Conference," "Medical Witness," and others. The organization had several smokers in connection with movies, speakers and debates. The society's social agenda included a banquet and a picnic for law students and their families.

The Toledo Chapter of the Student Bar Association carried out programs both on the student level and in the local Bar Association. The organization has projected a moot court competition at the appellate level. Each year, along with its other varied activities, this organization has sent members as representatives to Law Student Conventions.

The president of the Association this year was Ronald Bowman; Janet Wallin was secretary. The Association has a Board of Governors composed of nine members elected from the student body. Two representatives from each class and an extra representative from the fourth year class make up the nine member board. Mr. Clarence Hyrne was this year's adviser.

DEAN CHARLES H. LARWOOD

In January, 1936, the Division of Pharmacy was established as a separate college. It now has laboratories for Pharmacology, Pharmacognosy, Pharmaceutical Chemistry, Pharmacy, and a research laboratory and has been given a class "A" rating by the American College on Pharmaceutical Education. In 1946 Charles H. Larwood was appointed dean of the College of Pharmacy.

The University of Toledo has seen a deficiency and is training its pharmaceutical graduates to fit into all of the modern advancements in the field; the demand for modern trainees far exceeds the supply. The college is attracting more and more women students entering the University. Pharmacy, as a career for them, is now being fully realized, for it has been discovered that women operate well in all phases of the field: research and control laboratories of pharmaceutical manufacturers, the retail practice of pharmacy, and particularly in hospital dispensing.

The college has developed a far-reaching scope, for pharmacists are now employed in analytical laboratories, commercial pharmacies, hospital pharmacies, and industrial manufacturing plants where control and research are required in the preparation and further development of medicinals, antibiotics, biological and glandular products.

alpha zeta omega

Sigma chapter of Alpha Zeta Omega, professional pharmaceutical fraternity, has completed its eighth year on the Toledo University campus. Since 1949, this group has devoted itself to the idea that through association with one another and by the practices of the virtues of mutual trust, sympathy, faithfulness and unselfishness, they can advance their profession.

The chapter sponsored four professional meetings for the College of Pharmacy which have been informative to all pharmacy students. The newest drugs were discussed and current problems in retail stores were studied. Through these meetings both the College of Pharmacy and the profession gain since the speakers can pass on to their successors valuable practical information.

The fraternity also strives to develop its members socially. The outstanding example was a dinner-dance at a downtown hotel. This event was a tribute to the graduating seniors and new initiates. The social calendar also included monthly stag parties.

The organization is open to male Jewish students in Pharmacy. The greatest strength of an organization of this nature lies in the basic similarities in interest and common ideas. Alpha Zeta Omega is an outgrowth of these basic desires; it comes from the need for an additional active professional pharmaceutical group.

The chapter has been under the direction of Ronald Greenbaum, president; Sheldon Glass, vice-president; Gerald Zlotnik, secretary; Stuart Shafron, treasurer; and Alfred Luft, sergeant-at-arms.

Kappa Psi is a professional pharmaceutical fraternity. Its purpose is to advance the profession of pharmacy educationally, professionally, and socially, and to promote fellowship and high ideals and foster scholarship and pharmaceutical research.

During the year Kappa Psi sponsored professional

Rho Chi is a national pharmaceutical honorary. The organization strives to promote and advance pharmaceutical sciences through encouragement and recognition of scholarship; Rho Chi also seeks to encourage fraternal relationship between undergraduate students and members of the faculty.

This year's officers were James Ruddock, president; Alan Baer, vice-president; Robert Baldwin, secretary-treasurer; Dr. Joseph Judas, historian. Their work included activities such as a banquet, movies, regular meetings, and guest speakers. The group participated in Honors Day ceremonies and held a Smarty Party for outstanding pre-pharmacy students.

This was the first year of competition for Beta Eta with the fifty-nine chapters for the Rho Chi award. The award consists of fifty dollars presented to the chapter which has made the most substantial contributions toward the advancement of graduate study in Pharmacy.

Lambda Kappa Sigma is the national pharmaceutical fraternity for women. The purpose of this organization is to bind the women enrolled in the College of Pharmacy into a unit to study the various phases of the field so that they may better serve their profession in the years to come. Lambda Kappa Sigma presents professional meetings in order to better acquaint members with the extent and various aspects of pharmacy. In addition, the organization seeks to keep its members up to date on new developments in the field. Lambda Kappa Sigma was installed on the University of Toledo's campus on May 6, 1956. Miss Harriet Leskausk, grand president, presided over the installation ceremony.

This year, the fraternity was under the able direction of Joanne Pietras, president and Sharon McGinnis, vice-president. Beverly Wisniewski held the position of secretary and Marilyn Fulton carried on the duties of treasurer. Serving in the capacity of adviser to the professional sorority was Mrs. Berg.

The purpose of the Junior College is to provide an opportunity for higher education to those who cannot complete a four-year course. Certificates given are Associate in Arts, Business, or Industrial Science. If, at the end of the two years a student wishes to enter a four-year program, he may do so with the permission of his dean. The Junior College is accredited as a division of a fully accredited university and it is easy to transfer credits to other colleges and universities. Members of the Junior College have the same privileges as students regularly enrolled. Several courses offered in Junior College programs are also given in evening and summer sessions. Requirements may be fulfilled by students on a part-time basis over a period of five years. Director of the Junior College is Newton Rochte.

GLENN E. MOWERS IS THE DIRECTOR OF OUR GUIDANCE CENTER

graduate division

Dr. Paul W. Stansbury is the director of Graduate Study. Pre-approval blanks, required before graduate work is undertaken, may be secured from him. Only qualified students may apply for entrance; they must be graduates of a university or college to be eligible. If accepted they become candidates for a graduate degree and may take the courses necessary to meet the requirements of the field. Work on the graduate level has three implications: specialization in a field of knowledge beyond the limits of the undergraduate major, a degree of maturity of thought and attitude commensurate with the time and effort expended, and a command of the field evidenced by increased efficiency in the professional and cultural life of the individual. Programs for Master's degrees are offered in 18 fields.

In looking for a cross section of the University of Toledo's campus leaders, take note of Who's Who. Who's Who is a national honor society; acceptance to it is based upon scholarship, participation, leadership, and service to the school. The selection of 34 of TU's junior and senior leaders by this national organization was announced during the intermission of the Homecoming Dance. Recognition of their acceptance was published in the Collegian and the Blockhouse.

To become a member of Who's Who, a student must first be nominated by a local board of school authorities. The board requires the student to have at least a 1.0 point average and one major activity. If the student qualifies, his nomination is sent to the national board. This national board compares the nomination with those of leading students from approximately 700 other colleges and universities throughout the country. Those accepted compose Who's Who.

blue key honorary welcomes new leaders

FRED GAWECKI, PRESIDENT OF BLUE KEY, SPEAKS TO SENATE

The highest honor that can be bestowed upon a University man during his college days is membership in Blue Key, national men's honor fraternity. The TU chapter, with a limited membership of 13, taps only those junior and senior men outstanding in leadership, scholarship, and extracurricular activities. The men meeting these qualifications are tapped at the Christmas Formal and the J-Hop.

Blue Key activities increased this year as the men undertook the coronation of the Homecoming Queen. In conjunction with Peppers, they took over the chairmanship of the Campus Leaders' Dance.

Officers were Fred Gawecki, president; Ron Greenbaum, vice-president; Jim Ruddock, secretary-treasurer; Tom Hart, corresponding secretary; and Bill Williams, alumni secretary. Other members were Jim Kwiatkowski, Bob Martin, Stan Odesky, Dick Tavtigian, Jerry Walz, and Tom Zraik. Faculty members included Dr. Jesse Long and Dean Donald S. Parks, advisers, and President Asa Knowles and Dr. Archie Solberg.

peppers recognizes outstanding 13 women

Peppers, women's honor society, gives recognition to the women of the University who have maintained high scholarship, participation in campus activities, and worthy personal conduct.

Mrs. Clifford E. Rader, secretary of Mortar Board, national women's honorary, visited the Peppers during November in anticipation of possible future acceptance of the local group into the national society.

Spring was busy for the Peppers. The annual "Smarty Party" was given in honor of freshman women who had obtained a 2.0 average in their first semester at the University. The outstanding activity was sponsoring Women's Songfest at the Peristyle where new members were tapped.

Dean M. Kathryn Schwab was the adviser. Officers were Linda Baker, president; Sue Riedeman, secretary-treasurer; and Mary Henkel, historian. Other Peppers were Vicky Brenneman, Yvonne Bronowicz, Faye Cavese, Nancy Dielman, Jill Harshbarger, Carmella Kaiser, Linda Mayo, Doris Moore, and Kathy Smith.

On the University of Toledo campus, as on the campuses of many American universities, Phi Kappa Phi recognizes superior scholarship. Juniors are required to have a 2.7 accumulative average and seniors must have a 2.5 average to be eligible for membership. Phi Kappa Phi is the only national honorary which includes members from all colleges.

Phi Kappa Phi promotes scholarship among its members and among the student body as a whole. It sponsored, in addition to other activities, the Honors Day Convocation which is held each spring. The president of Phi Kappa Phi this year was Professor Mary Gillham.

alpha phi omega

Alpha Phi Omega has been this year, as it has been in previous years on the campus of the University of Toledo, an outstanding national service organization. The purpose of Alpha Phi Omega is to render service to the community of Toledo and to the University of Toledo by developing friendship and promoting service to humanity. This year the group sponsored a book exchange for students on second level, an orphan's party, and a scholarship fund for the University. It also was responsible for erecting many of the Christmas decorations on campus. Membership in the fraternity is open to all University students who have been associated with the Boy Scouts of America.

The officers of Alpha Phi Omega this year were Jim Steele, president; Bernard Solomon, vice-president; Hudson Harris, treasurer; Richard Podiak, corresponding secretary; and John Lawley, secretary.

The Student Activities Committee consists of representatives from the faculty, the Board of Directors, the Student Senate, the Student Union Board of Governors and the President of the University. Student Activities Committee acts for the President and the faculty upon recommendations that have been made by the Student Senate covering such items as budgets, new organizations, and fund drives. SAC also is given the responsibility for the work and functions of groups whether they are honorary, educational, religious, or political groups.

The personnel of the Committee included Donald S. Parks, dean of students; M. Kathryn Schwab, dean of women; R. O. Waldkoetter, director of student activities; Donovan F. Emch, associate professor of political science; Dr. Helen Holt, associate SAC director; Jack Henson and Jae Ann Newton, representatives of the Student Senate; and Jack Sharkey, representative of the Student Union Board of Governors.

senate sets pace in campus affairs

Student Senate is the governing body at the University of Toledo. Each spring, following lively campaigning during which the campus is over-run with posters, literature, and pass-outs, 22 senators are elected.

Senate activities for the year included Freshman Week and a beard growing contest. Senate also busied itself with Homecoming festivities which included the bonfire, parade, game, and dance. December brought about the campus wide Christmas Formal. Second semester activities were the Sophomore Dance, J-Hop, and the May Festival.

Officers were Jack Henson, president; Stan Odesky, vice-president; Sue Noe, secretary; Rosalie Louviaux, treasurer; and Jerry Zlotnik, sergeant-at-arms.

STUDENTS FROM ALL FOUR CLASSES CONVERGE ON STUDENT UNION TO CAST THEIR BALLOTS IN TU SPRING ELECTIONS

NANCY OHLER ADDRESSES PRESIDENT

EXPRESSIONS SHOW INTEREST, DISGUST IN ATTEMPT TO GAIN RECOGNITION

graduation's soon to be an actuality

MARY HENKEL, women's representative to Senate; JIM GREEN, men's representative to Senate.

The last of four short years of college. For some seniors, it meant leaving the little world called campus and looking forward to a job in teaching, business, or the sciences; for others it meant the beginning of graduate work, med school, or law school; and for still others it meant the last chance to get in those required subjects, make lasting friends, apply for honoraries, or sleep late in the morning.

Whether you were here for four years or five, not one of the preceding years could be singled out as being one of such determination and satisfaction. Social events such as the Senior Prom and Senior Week were the most outstanding and will probably be the most remembered.

The Senior Class this year boasted an efficient staff of officers, whose experience in previous class offices, sports, and scholarship provided the leadership that made the class outstanding. They were Fred Gawecki, president; Clayton Umbles, vice-president; Linda Baker, secretary; Faye Caveese, treasurer; Mary Henkel, women's representative to Senate, and Jim Green, men's representative to Senate.

FRED GAWECKI, president; LINDA BAKER, secretary; FAYE CAVESE, treasurer; CLAYTON UMBLES, vice-president.

leadership proven to be junior quality

The Junior Class showed an unprecedented amount of leadership in 1957. Many were selected to become members of honorary societies and fraternities. Fifteen members of the class were elected to Who's Who, honorary society for outstanding people active in campus affairs, and new members for Blue Key and Peppers, honorary societies, were also tapped. New ROTC leaders were discovered in the Junior Class and campus publications were placed in the hands of predominantly junior staffs. Along with these ambitious students, the Homecoming Queen was chosen from the Junior Class. Pat Rankin received the honor as she reigned with a court of four girls of the same rank over the Homecoming festivities. The annual J-Hop would not have been the success it was without the outstanding supervision of the artistic people of the class.

This year the Junior Class chose Jerry Leavitt for its president; Ron Duvendack, vice-president; Binnie Harrison, secretary; Ernie Olde, treasurer; Jerry Zlotnik, men's representative to senate; and Dian Carstensen, women's representative to senate.

JERRY ZLOTNIK, men's representative to Senate; DIAN CARSTENSEN, women's representative to Senate.

MARCIA CUDDEBACK, vice president; JOHN WARGO, president; MARGE O'LEARY, secretary.

DICK COSGROVE, men's representative to Senate; ROSALIE LOUVIAUX, women's representative to Senate.

sophs show spirit with their activities

The music of Jimmy Stier's orchestra, playing through an enchanted forest of varied shades of blue trimmed with sparkle, set a conservative mood for the presentation of the Sophomore Class dance "Enchantment in Blue." John Wargo was chairman while Rosalie Louviaux took charge of the decorations. Guests at the dance were also honored with the presentation of the Blue Key fall tapping program.

The sophomore at the University suggests a person of cooperativeness in working with other classes, a person of varied interests, and a person who is willing to assume a larger share of the student responsibility in the next few years. This year the class promoted a greater interest in the morale of the student body and did a fine job in helping to boost attendance and participation of students and non-students in athletic events.

Guiding the Sophomore Class this year were John Wargo, president; Marcia Cuddeback, vice-president; Marge O'Leary, secretary; Rosalie Louviaux, women's representative to Senate; and Dick Cosgrove, men's representative to Senate.

eager earnest frosh show many talents

The freshmen, not to be outdone by previous classes carried on the tradition of a freshman float for the Homecoming Parade under the chairmanship of Howard Roberts. As usual, freshman enthusiasm for school affairs and activities ran at a maximum as new students began working for the University of Toledo.

Following registration, the freshmen were subjected to a series of tests, conferences with advisers, meetings, and campus tours during Freshman Week. After being properly oriented, interest turned to the task of being a college student. In November, when students became more sure of their ability to master studies, attention shifted to activities and politics. Political parties were formed and after spirited campaigning the following students were elected: Matt Kolb, president; Barbara Bruggeman, secretary; Betsy Radunz, treasurer; Louise Cox, women's representative to Senate; and Alex Johns, men's representative to Senate.

The officers and the committees of the Freshman Class planned and carried out the various activities during the year, highlighted by the Freshman Dance.

A new coat of paint for the walls, a trip to New York, and a tradition soaked shower for the editor — these things the campus saw. The campus didn't see a whole summer of redecorating, a hurried departure during a deadline, and hours of work that led up to the shower; work which started last spring on contracts, ideas, and conceptions of a book; work that involved everyone from this year's editor, Judy Wiseley, to last year's editor, Jim Kwiatkowski.

The students bought the book; they didn't know the worries involved in keeping it financially sound. They read the copy; they didn't read between the lines to the work of writing, correcting, and rewriting it. They looked at the pictures; they didn't see the work of scheduling, posing, and cropping them. They saw the arrangement of the book; they couldn't imagine the hours of standing over a drawing board to produce it. The students saw these aspects as part of a yearbook; the staff saw them as a way of life.

Editorials on political combines, their rise and fall, sports results, society notes, gossip columns, everything but advice to the love-lorn — this was the work of the University's four-page weekly, the Campus Collegian. The Collegian office could usually be found occupied by last minute features writers, bridge experts and amateurs, empty coke bottles, half-filled coffee cups, overflowing ash trays, Vicky Brenneman and Editor-in-chief Leo Puccetti. Between hands of bridge and Frisbee matches, the staff managed to put out one of Ohio's top collegiate weekly papers. Starting every Thursday for the next week's issue, they worked through until the paper finally went to the printer at Wednesday midnight. As work again began on the coming issue, the just-completed one appeared in the racks every Thursday afternoon. Thus the cycle — assignments posted, copy corrected and rewritten, material sent to the printer, proofs corrected, papers out — was again repeated.

At the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter holiday convocations, a procession of candle-lit faces and robes moved to the stage to bring the students the A Cappella Choir's contribution to the University of Toledo. The choir is composed of mixed voices, and is a great asset to the public relations of the University.

Tedious hours of practice, striving for musical perfection — this was the responsibility of A Cappella Choir. Through the careful supervision and leadership of Miss Doris Schieber, another successful year has been achieved.

The University of Toledo Symphony and Marching Band was directed this year by Dr. Hugh Gunderson. This marks Dr. Gunderson's first year as the University Band Director.

During the football season, the band provided half-time entertainment and spirit. For the remainder of the school year, the band served as a Symphony Orchestra. This year, the annual Band Day for area high schools was sponsored by the University Band and held at the Glass Bowl. A band clinic was held during the first semester for area high school directors. To review new music published this year was the purpose of the clinic. The clinic lasted the entire day, with lunch served in the cafeteria. The University Band was host to 17 area high school bands at the Kent State game. During half-time at the game all 17 bands performed. rotc

The Reserve Officers Training Corps at the University of Toledo instructed 475 cadets in the field of military education. The ultimate goal of each cadet is to become a commissioned officer in one of the branches of the United States Army.

Heading the staff is Lieutenant Colonel Robert A. Sharrer who is professor of military science. Lieutenant Colonel Sharrer has been on active duty since 1938 serving in Europe and the Far East. Other members of the ROTC staff are Major Lester W. Stiles; Captains Robert Farkas and Woodrow C. Schmidt; Lieutenant Arthur R. Back; Master Sergeants Ward Morton, Leon Van Autreve, Alvis Wilson; and SFC Joseph Crocker. This year the regiment was commanded by Cadet Colonel Gary L. Sisler, assisted by John W. Tipka, First Battalion, and James W. Scheib, Second Battalion.

The ROTC Rifle Team is another branch of the ROTC at the University. Under the instruction of Sergeant Zedoc Helton cadets improve their marksmanship. This is accomplished through competitive firing with various other colleges in the vicinity.

Pershing Rifles, military honorary for outstanding freshman and sophomore ROTC cadets, is probably the most disciplined and the most coordinated unit on campus. A cadet wearing the white gloves can be proud and should be praised for the good name Pershing Rifles possesses. During the school year, activity never ceased for these future military leaders. Parades downtown in spotless uniforms and in perfect cadence were typical of the organization.

In the fall, the Pershing Rifles, along with Scabbard and Blade, solved field problems pertinent to their military training. Also on their schedule was a mock maneuvers with Bowling Green University. In October Pershing Rifles sponsored a tea for sorority women in order to select their queen for the year. Awarded the honor was Miss Marilyn Pugh of Alpha Chi Omega. Miss Sally Hoffman of Delta Delta Delta and Miss Jodi Sanderson of Chi Omega were selected as honorary First Lieutenants.

This year, officers for the honorary organization were Spencer Brown, captain; Don Koepffer, executive officer; Al McAninch, adjutant; and John Tipka, financial officer. Other officers were John Feiger, public information; Ken Evans, supply; Jim Schlievert, pledge officer; and Bob Sawyer was in charge of plans and training.

Scabbard And Blade, honorary military fraternity, develops the essential qualities of good and efficient officers and fosters the ideas and practice of military education in the United States. There are three basic requirements for membership in this organization: one, enrollment in the advanced course of military science; two, a 1.5 scholastic average; and three, the essential qualities of a good officer. This year, officers were Russell B. Cook, Captain; Gilbert L. Hubbel, First Lieutenant; Harvey Danowitz, Second Lieutenant, and Thomas P. Dilb, Master Sergeant.

Barbara Bruggeman, a Pi Beta Phi pledge, was elected queen for 1957-1958. Other social events included the Winter formal and the Spring dinner dance. Scabbard and Blade activities included an honor guard for the Homecoming Queen, a smoker for sophomores interested in advanced ROTC, orienting the juniors for summer camp, and solving of field problems. Captain Robert L. Farkas was the adviser.

The Society of American Military Engineers had its inception during World War I, in order to keep our country from the spirit of indifference and unreadiness proceeding war. It is composed of both civilians and military personnel who deem it their duty to keep our country prepared in the event of war, and who strive to promote efficiency in the military engineer service.

The Society truly represents the military policy of the United States, and places its main reliance in the civilian rather than in the soldier. It believes that the man without military training may render as valuable service to our country as the fighting man by being interested in our defense program. SAME helps to create this interest.

During the school year meetings with professional engineers in the various fields constituted the major part of the Society's activity.

FUTURE ARMY PERSONNEL LEARN THE MECHANICS OF THEIR GUNS AS INSTRUCTOR SHOWS GROUP HOW TO ASSEMBLE THEM

vet's club

To promote fellowship and scholarship, and to encourage justifiable pride in the educational goal pursued by its members is the purpose of the University of Toledo Veteran's Club. With these high aims in mind, this organization has made itself an integral part of the life on and around the University campus.

This 1957-1958 year, under the skillful leadership of their competent officers, Richard J. Wachter, president; Don Simon, vice-president; Robert Tiplady, secretary; Fred Loo, treasurer; and Donald K. Squire, sergeant-at-arms, the group has set before the University student body a good example of active and creative fellowship in an organization.

The Veterans this year have attested to the ideals and purposes of their still enlarging organization. In November, the club sponsored a dance in the Student Union; along with this were many other parties such as the Yacht Club get-together, the splash and dance party, and the bowling and card party. These, besides their annual spring picnic and the Veterans' Administration Representative talk, kept the members busy during this past year.

The club requires of its membership a minimum of obligation. This is to attend one of their varied activities at least once a month. Using a method such as this insures not only the success of its activities, but its place on campus among other organizations. Also, this obligation is levied on members for other than attendance so that the members' study time is not lessened or seriously impaired.

To coordinate and direct religious activities as well as to promote and create situations in which religious values may be developed and recognized is the purpose of the University of Toledo Religious Council.

It is the Religious Council that our University thanked for such events as the Campus Conference on Religion; the council also sponsored the Thanksgiving Convocation on November 27, and the Christmas Convocation on December 13. In addition, the Council was responsible for the Brotherhood Convocation in February and the Easter Convocation in April. All of these services brought a feeling of closeness.

The group also scheduled many activities within their own group which kept them extremely busy during the year. Some of these activities were the sponsorship of a car for the Homecoming Parade and a party at Christmas time.

Although the Council met only once a month, this did not keep it from accomplishing a great many things. This came about because of the great amount of cooperation received from all of the members. The significance of this fact is clear because everyone understands that this is a religious structure and that many different religions on the TU campus are represented.

Accomplishing an excellent job as Council leaders this past year were Robert Brigham, president; Thomas Shepherd, vice-president; Carol Wohlman, recording secretary; Dian Carstensen, corresponding secretary; Dennis Lauman, treasurer; and Mrs. Florence Radabaugh, adviser.

The purpose of the Association is to confront its members with Jesus Christ as Lord and Saviour and with his call to discipleship. The Lutheran Students Association sponsored a spaghetti supper for incoming freshmen, a major part of the Campus Conference on Religion, the LSA Workshop, and a hayride.

canterbury club

All Episcopal students are eligible for membership in the Canterbury Club. The club's purpose is to promote Christian fellowship among Episcopalian youth at the University. It endeavors to make the student body aware of the work of the Church. Members of the Canterbury Club promote their club and its ideals through their loyalty to the Church and their manner on and off campus.

The Canterbury Club sponsors several parties a year for its members. This year the organization had one with its contemporary group from Bowling Green. In addition to regular monthly meetings, the Canterbury Club sponsored Holy Communion.

Faculty adviser was Professor Grace Cutler and spiritual adviser was Father Alexander Gruetter. Officers were Tom Shepherd, president; Barbara Bennaway, vice-president; Kathy Ray, treasurer; and Sally Kuebler, secretary.

wesleyan club

To promote close religious relations between all Methodist students on campus is the purpose of the University's Wesleyan Club.

Activities started early this year, when a roast was given at Ottawa Park. In November, a bake sale was held in Franklin's Ice Cream Parlor. The members of the Wesleyan Club baked the cakes, cookies, and pies which were sold. In addition to the stand in Franklin's, some of the members did door-to-door selling in the faculty apartments. The members of the faculty contributed their aid to the club. In addition, some room-to-room selling in MacKinnon Hall and the three men's dorms brought a successful end to the bake sale. During Christmas vacation, a caroling party through Ottawa Hills was enjoyed by the members. After singing, a warm-up cocoa party was given in the Student Union.

Officers this year were Marvin Drake, president; Robert Cosgrove, vice-president; Nancy Parks, secretary; and JoAnn Rahm, treasurer.

newman club

The purpose of the Newman Club, to promote both educational and spiritual values in the Catholic student, was shown in its activities. A communion breakfast was enjoyed by Newman Club members the first Sunday of every month to give the members a feeling of unity. Also, Rosary was said at various times through the year.

Members had charge of the Christmas Convocation. In January, a spaghetti dinner was given.

Officers of the Newman Club this year were Marcia Swiergosz, president; John Bryan, vice-president; Faye Cavese, secretary; Steve Rady, treasurer; and Father Mooney, moderator.

young men's christian association

To offer a program of social activities combined with services and opportunities to participate in the intercollegiate Y conferences, is the purpose of the Young Men's Christian Association.

As a starter for the year, the YM's Art Keel headed the University's Freshman Camp. This was followed by a membership drive by which the club gained 72 new members. On October 25, the YW along with the YM acted as guides for the Teacher's Conference which took place on TU's campus. In order to raise funds for the treasury, members sold mums for the annual Homecoming game.

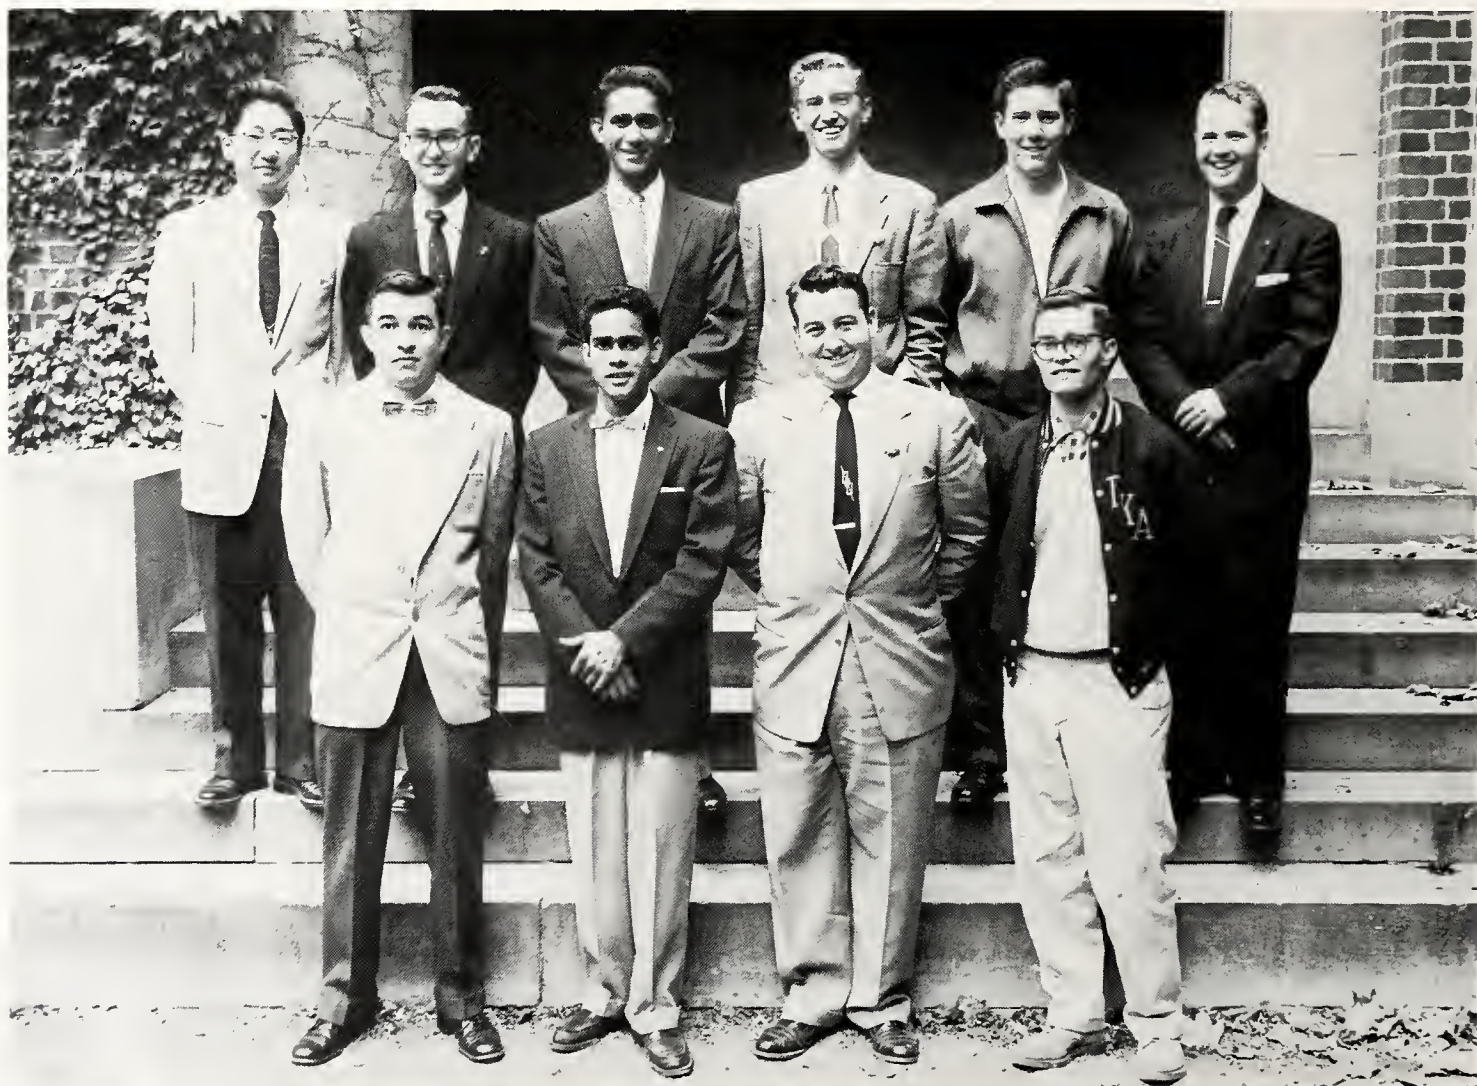

Along with the YW, the YM sponsored Thanksgiving Day baskets for needy families throughout the city. They also sponsored upper class counselors from the groups for freshmen.

During semesters, the YM had a weekend retreat by themselves where they discussed plans for the semester. After the weekend, the members had another membership drive from February third to seventh. On February 11, a brotherhood conference was sponsored by both Y's. Also, a campus-wide Valentine party was given by the combined Y's. Again, they went together to sponsor the WUS banquet on February 21 and 22. At Camp Christian the YM had the largest representation of the YM's in Ohio.

Officers this year were Jim Oien, president; Bill Yohe, vice-president; Melvin VanDrieson, treasurer; Dan Tiehl, secretary; John Pappas, chaplain; Dr. A. F. Foster and Dr. R. E. Wear, advisers.

young women's christian association

The Young Women's Christian Association has a twofold purpose: first, to unite in the desire to realize a full and creative life; second, to conduct a program which chiefly is concerned with women having some means of expression and development.

Not only does this organization have a religious interest, but it also has an interest in the social activities on campus. Examples of activities were the Freshman Camp, in September, which gave the freshmen an opportunity to become better acquainted; clothing and membership drives; Thanksgiving food baskets; an all-campus Christmas party; a Brotherhood Convocation on February eleventh; an all-campus Valentine party, February sixteenth; and the WUS Carnival.

To keep in contact with the national Y, the officers attended conferences and read the Intercollegian, which is a national Y publication. This year the Y sponsored a counseling service composed of members of other service organizations as well as of sororities and fraternities. Each counselor was assigned to five or six freshmen to help them through their first semester of college life. The members of both the YMCA and YWCA acted as student guides during the Northwestern Ohio Teacher's Meeting, which was October 25.

Officers this year were K. T. Fortune, president; Sharon Ramlow, vice-president; Linda Crowl, recording secretary; Joyce Bussinger, corresponding secretary; Janet Zucker, treasurer; Mary Ann Kramer, chaplain; Nancy Gauthier, editor and historian; and Mrs. Florence Radabaugh, adviser.

The DNW Club is an organization to provide a program of social, educational, and athletic activities for the men in Dowd Nash and White Halls. DNW adviser this year was Paul Hannahs. Officers were Dick Tavtigan, president; Tom Culler, vice-president; Don Hollerich, secretary; and Frank Gebers, treasurer.

DNW's candidate, Sharon Bartley, was elected to the Homecoming Queen's court. DNW members honored on campus were Jim Ruddock and Dick Tavtigan who were elected to Blue Key; they, along with Clayton Umbles, the University's All-Mid-Am Guard, were elected to Who's Who.

mackinnon hall

To promote the best interests of the members of the hall, to secure a close union of members, and to maintain high scholastic, moral, intellectual and social ideals is the purpose of Internos, the club for the girls of MacKinnon Hall.

Living in a dorm is great fun; to help with the fun and fellowship, such events as the DNW dinner were planned to acquaint the men and women in the dorms. Also, the girls had a successful car wash project, with each girl participating in order to obtain the quota.

Competition between the floors for the highest scholastic point average presented something in which everyone could participate. Another activity was the Faculty Tea which gave the University faculty an opportunity to meet the girls and to see how they live. In the spring a picnic for senior girls was given. These girls were also taken out to dinner and each given a gift.

The officers this year were Janice Scott, president; Marilyn Inoue, vice-president; Sharon McGinnis, secretary; Barbara Kusevich, treasurer; Carol Johnson, proctor; and Mrs. Martha Lang, adviser and House Mother.

polish club

A person looking for an active organization would find that his eye would light upon the Polish Club at the University of Toledo. This group was founded in 1929 for the purpose of providing friendly relations for students of Polish descent and their friends of other nationalities and backgrounds.

Under the leadership of President David Nowicki, the organization this year held bi-monthly luncheon meetings and carried on additional activities commensurate with its goals and ideals. These activities included a Christmas party, a spring picnic, and a scholarship benefit.

In addition to its social activities, the Polish Club used its resources to sponsor a scholarship fund for incoming students at the University of Toledo. This year, in conjunction with another group, the Polish Club contributed 6,000 dollars to the Scholarship Fund. The fund is annually turned over to the University for administration at a tea in May of every succeeding year.

international students association

To promote international relations and acquaint the members with people of other countries and their customs through speakers and movies is the purpose which the ISA strived to fulfill.

The organization participated in a variety of activities this year. Included in their schedule of events were a pot luck dinner, a roast, and a senior picnic. On October fourth, the group sponsored an all campus party.

Dian Carstensen served as president of ISA this year. Other members of the executive council included Najah Kahn, Habib Khan, El Kasey, Annajean Thaiss and Carolyn McClelland.

DR. JAMES W. LONG AND HARRY LARCHE

During the summer of 1957, TU President Asa S. Knowles announced the appointment of a new director of athletics, Dr. James W. Long. The vote of the TU Athletic Board of Control was a unanimous choice in favor of the former chairman of the department of physical education at Wake Forest College. Dr. Long graduated from Missouri Valley College, received his Master of Arts from Northwestern University and Doctor of Philosophy from the University of North Carolina. Harry Larche started his first season as head football coach with 12 returning lettermen and a host of sophomores. Coach Larche played college football at Arkansas State and one year of professional football with the Baltimore Colts. Harry's staff consisted of Leo Cahill, line coach; Howard Powers, backfield coach; John Manyak, freshman coach; Gene Martell, assistant freshman coach. Roy Tillotson was assisted by Vic Brenneman as trainer. Ron Francis took over the duties as publicity director. Barney Francis was business director and Mrs. Haru Thompson, secretary.

toledo opens season with a pair of wins

The University of Toledo football team opened the 1957 season with a win over the Maroons from the University of Eastern Kentucky. The only score of the contest came late in the third period. Toledo started the scoring drive on their own 40-yard line and fought down to the Maroons eight-yard line. At this point, quarterback Sam Tisci passed to end Gene Cook who outmaneuvered the defense stepping into the end zone to score the 7-0 win.

The Rockets defeated the Bobcats of Ohio University 14-6 in the first home game. At the end of a hard fought first half, the score read 7-6 in favor of the Rockets. Toledo controlled the ball throughout the second half and scored in the last period on an exciting series of plays ending with the familiar Sam Tisci to Gene Cook pass combination.

Bowling Green had little difficulty defeating the University of Toledo Rockets at the Falcon Stadium by 29-0. Toledo had a stout defense from tackle to tackle, but was unable to contain Bowling Green's wide game. Head Coach Harry Larche and his assistants were stunned by the show of power exhibited, but felt confident about future meetings between the two clubs. The small, but enthusiastic crowd who went out to cheer at the University of Toledo's Homecoming game witnessed an easy win for the home team. The Toledo strategy during the game was to keep to the ground and pass only to keep the defense honest. Toledo's offense stalled during the first half, but the Rockets came back in the second half with the determination and drive which gave them the 27-16 victory over Western Michigan.

The Toledo Rockets next traveled to the University of Louisville stadium. The Louisville team, with speedy Leonard Lyles, defeated the Rocket team 48-20. Lyles carried the ball ten times netting 179 yards and scored three touchdowns. Toledo's offense gained a total of 323 yards. The Rockets got only 190 yards on the ground, but outdid the Cardinals in passing with 133 yards, opposed to Louisville's 92. The University of Toledo suffered its second defeat at the hands of the Big Green of Marshall by a score 14-7. The Rockets exhibited the spirit, but could not muster enough strength from the injury-riddled bench to win. Eddie Wright was side-lined with the flu and Roy Hodge was taken out of the game in the second period after he had sustained an injury to his left leg.

The University of Toledo conquered Kent State 21-7 to end their Mid-American Conference schedule with a three win, two loss record, good for fourth place. Toledo gained most of its yardage in the air during the first half leaving the score 7-7. The second half was all Toledo as the ground game started to function properly. Norm Billingslea and Roy Hodge stood out as the outstanding offensive weapons. The Rockets completely stopped Kent in the last half by holding them to 15 yards on the ground and allowing only four completions on 14 passes attempted. Powerful Xavier downed the Toledo eleven 20-7. Toledo dominated the ball in the first half, but failed to score. Repeatedly the Rockets carried the ball down inside the opposition's 50-yard line but lacked the drive to put the ball over. The Musketeers opened the second half with an 85 yard pass play good for a touchdown. As the game drew on, Toledo's defense gradually collapsed under the offense.

The Rockets were unable to get started during the first period. Muskingum, however, played a deceptive game which gave them the first seven points. The Toledo team, at this point, started the scoring with Billingslea carrying the ball 60 yards in ten attempts. The Rockets came back in the second half just as strong. A 68 yard run by Wright ended one of the best seasons Toledo has enjoyed for a long time.

Ability, spirit, hard work, a prayer before the game — all were characteristic of the University of Toledo Rockets. This season's record of five wins and four losses is one of the best seen for quite awhile. Coach Harry Larche and his assistants piloted the predominantly sophomore and junior Rocket eleven through a long and hard fall schedule, bringing the team to a fourth place berth in the Mid-American Conference with three wins and two setbacks. Mid-American Conference individual player awards were given to Gene Cook, first team end; Rod Hodge, first team halfback; and Sam Tisci, second team quarterback. Receiving honorable mention awards were Norm Billingslea, fullback; and Jim Cameron, guard.

LEO CORKERY, Freshman Coach; EDDIE MELVIN, Varsity Coach.

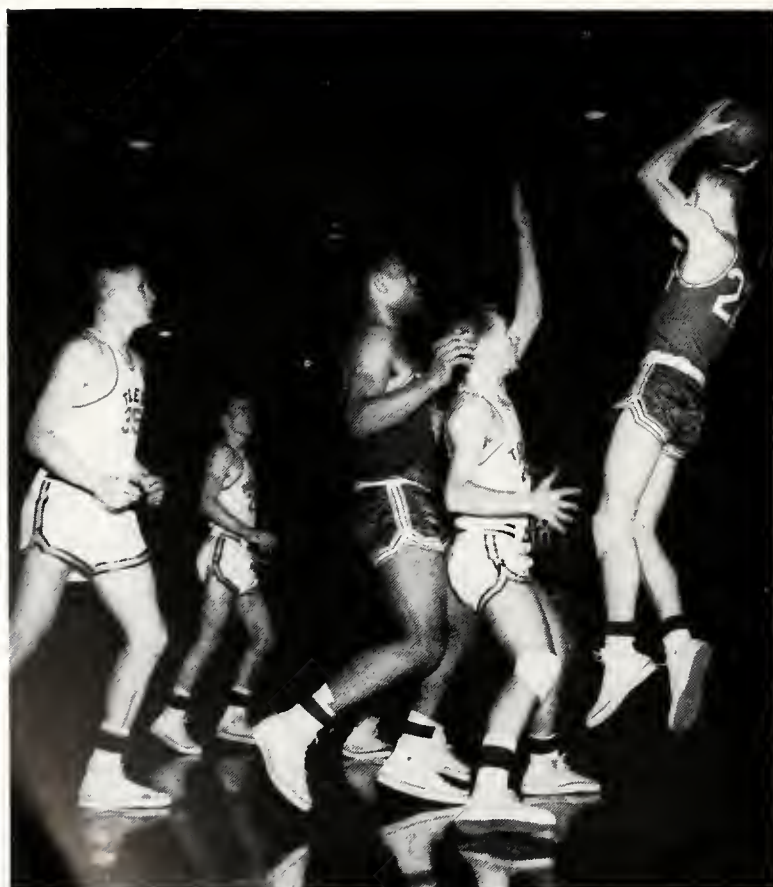

Eddie Melvin guided his varsity cagers through 23 games against some of the highest rated schools in the nation. When the season ended, he had a record of 9 wins and 14 losses, most of which were by close scores. Among the wins were two games when Toledo's score excelled the 100-point mark. The Rockets also boasted wins over the powerful squads from Tennessee Tech and Xavier University. TU experienced the Kent State "stall," and when they walked off the floor that night, they were the victims of a 25-17 score. Coach Melvin lost four outstanding senior players this year—Joe Keifer, Gene Cook, Gene Knauss and Jerry Eitzman, who may prove hard to replace next season. Many members of the bench gained valuable experience this year, however, and this promises the Rocket fans a winning year in 1958-59.

During the past year, many new people joined the University family; however, one familiar personality left us. Henry "Hank" Rigney, in his years as sports promoter and owner of the concessions at TU and Libbey High School, gained the respect and friendship of all those who new him during his life.

The University of Toledo Rockets opened the season with an impressive defeat over the Mustangs from Western Ontario by the lopsided score of 79-38. Toledo stayed home at the Field House to play the Blue Streaks from John Carroll and won the contest easily with an 89-54 score. Once again the Rockets exhibited their excellent style of ball play by defeating the powerful Tennessee Tech team 67-64 for the third straight win. Western Michigan fell victim to the University of Toledo's determined ball club on WM's home floor by a 66-62 score. The Redskins from Miami invaded Toledo's Field House the following week to decision the Rockets 63-50, resulting in Toledo's first loss of the season. The Rocket team next traveled to meet the Golden Flashes of Kent State and suffered a 25-17 loss resulting from the "Kent State stall." The traditional rival, Bowling Green, edged the Melvinmen in a thrilling contest before 2,800 screaming fans with a 67-65 tally at BG. The next week the Toledo Rockets faced the highly rated Niagara team on the Purple Eagles' home court, losing the tilt in the final quarter by a 70-64 score.

The Rocket basketball team played host to the Bobcats of Ohio University at the Field House. The tilt ended in a close 69-66 decision in favor of the Bobcats. The Rockets went back on the road to meet next the highly rated Duquesne squad. Melvin's five was clearly out-classed, as was evident by the 67-54 tally. Three days later the Rockets were back home opposing the Xavier University team from Cincinnati. Toledo scored an impressive win over Xavier, 86-75 for their fifth win of the season. Heavily favored Marquette was next on the schedule. Toledo led the Hilltoppers at halftime, but ran out of steam in the final half, losing to Marquette by a close 83-81 margin. Still on the road, the Rockets next faced the determined squad from Akron. The opposition's speed and height proved too much for the Melvinmen, as they again were defeated by a 65-59 decision. Two days later, the Rockets returned home to face Detroit Titans, only to go down in defeat by a close 83-81 tally.

The Rockets met highly regarded Marshall here for the first of two games. While containing the Thundering Herd's All-M-AC candidate Hal Greer, TU's cagers scored just enough to win a thriller 72-70. Four days later, Bowling Green's Falcons visited the Field House for the second TU-BG game. The Falcons edged the Rockets by just five points, 74-69. TU took revenge on Muskingum the following Saturday. The Muskingum team was no match for the Melvinmen who broke 100 for the first time in the 57-58 season. Final score was 108-57. The Rockets then traveled to Ohio U where they succumbed to the Bobcats 82-61.

Next the Rockets journeyed to Miami and almost put the only blemish on the Redskins' perfect M-AC record before bowing in the final minutes, 73-69. From Miami the Rockets traveled to Marshall College and were handed the season's worst defeat, 92-69, as the nation's highest scoring team avenged an earlier loss. The Rockets ended the season against the nationally ranked Dayton Flyers before a packed crowd at the TU Field House in a close game which they lost 59-48.

JOE SCALZO, Wrestling Coach

Joe Scalzo has, in the past, been honored by being named "Outstanding Young Man" in the community and coach of the United States Olympic wrestling team. This year he received another honor by being elected to City Council. To make the year even more successful, his Rocket wrestling team posted a five win, one loss record for the 1957-58 season. The grapplers went on to place third in the M-AC tourney, only one point out of second. In this tourney, Steve Kerlin and Howie Reminick gained championship honors in the 123-lb. and 147-lb. divisions, respectively. The services of Dick Tavtigian were definitely missed during the tourney after he was injured in a match against Kent State. The Rocket wrestlers, however, retained the upper hand with total first places. They now post a total of 20 first places during the past seven annual Mid-American Conference meets. Kent State follows with 19. Few members of the squad leave the team this year, promising a bright future in the Conference next year.

RALPH RADABAUGH, Varsity Coach

radabaugh takes baseball position

When coach Robert Appleby left the University, the athletic department scouted around for someone to fill the position of head baseball coach. They chose Ralph Radabaugh to take over the spot. His qualifications for the job were excellent, inasmuch as he played baseball himself in the minor leagues for several years and has been coaching federation baseball for about nine years. In 1951, his team won the city championship and then went on to win the American Baseball Congress tournament at Springfield. Early in the spring, approximately 40 men turned out for preliminary practice. Within this group were six returning lettermen—Sam Tisci, Walt Martisius, Jerry Eitzman, Don Lewis, Gene Cook, and Jerry Zlotnik. With a predominantly underclassmen squad, Radabaugh looked forward to a successful season this 1957-58 schedule.

golf season shows poor 2-8-1 record

The University of Toledo golf team, under the able direction of Arthur (Barney) Francis, closed the 56-57 season with a 2-8-1 record and ended up in seventh place in the M-AC tourney. The Rockets began the season with losses to Hillsdale 14-1, Eastern Michigan 13½-1½, Bowling Green 14-1, Albion 14½-1½, Bowling Green 15-3, Wayne State 10½-1½, again to Hillsdale 15½-2½, and once again to Wayne State 11-1. The men of the fairways finally hit the win column as they shut out Ohio Northern 12-0. They then went on to defeat Findlay 11½-½ and to tie Eastern Michigan 6-6, a team by which they had previously been soundly beaten. This year's team embarked on an ambitious 12 game schedule, competed in the M-AC Tournament at Western Michigan, and hoped for an improvement over last year's record.

Coach Robert Wear guided his team through a long and successful 1957 season. The determined squad turned in 15 victories and 3 defeats in overall play. Among these games were five wins and one loss in the M-AC. Toledo met the traditional rival, Bowling Green, in the first M-AC game of the year. BG went down in defeat, 6-3. Kent State was the next victim of the powerful TU team, being shut out, 9-0. Marshall found it difficult to better Kent's score and also was stopped by a 9-0 score. For the third time in a row, Toledo enjoyed a 9-0 victory when they clashed with Ohio U. The Rockets returned to play Bowling Green once again and another victory was added to the record, 8-1. The last game of the season handed Toledo its first loss—to Miami, 6-3.

Determination and enthusiasm highlighted the 1957-58 intramural program. Gene Martell, newly appointed director, managed the various sports in an orderly and satisfying manner. Rules and regulations were clearly defined, referees for the different contests obtained and weekly bulletins posted for all who were interested. The bulk of the participants entering the variety of events consisted of the 10 national fraternities on campus. Each of the contestants strove to win the Inter-Fraternity Council Sports Trophy. Every sport was assigned a specific rating in relation to the importance of the contest. At the end of the year, the points were tallied for each contestant and the highest number won the trophy. Competition for this award was high, as exemplified by the fact that year after year the point spread separating the entrants has been consistently low. PiKA began in the season win column by capturing the championship in football. SAE followed closely behind, winning second place. The men of SAE returned to capture the volleyball crown in the next event. Sig Ep followed to win the intermural bowling championship. Other sports in the program were basketball, tennis, golf, softball and ping pong.

For fun and exercise University women turn to the Women's Recreation Association. WRA offered a variety of sports in the past year. One or more sports were available during all seasons. At the start of school tennis and archery were the centers of activity. During the winter months the scene switched to basketball and bowling. In the second semester volleyball and fencing filled the calendar. Springtime found girls shining their golf clubs. Riflery was the only sport that continued throughout the school year.

The WRA Board is the executive body and is composed of the officers and the heads of sports. The officers this year were Arlene Zielinski, president; Arlene Swiergosz, vice-president; and Helen Schlorb, secretary-reporter. Qualified leaders have shown interest and achievement. Basketball was headed by Lois Fox; volleyball by Gussie Hawkins; tennis by Marge Piotrowski; fencing by Sue Sweeney; archery by Mary Henkel; riflery by Sue Brimmer; bowling by Priscilla Kuehl Holey; golf by Carol Smith; tumbling by Pat Rankin, and recreational sports by Ada Wolfram. The two advisers were Miss Florence Bernholdt and Miss Lamora Mueller.

Awards played an important part in the year's activities. They rewarded the girls who participated in the sports throughout the year. Two award dinners took place, one in February and one in May. At the February dinner awards were presented and two freshmen were announced as representatives to the WRA Board; at the dinner in May the officers were installed and the awards presented.

Four awards can be obtained by a girl who has participated in WRA. A shield may be obtained by a girl who has participated in three activities, including a tournament, a match, or a bout. The next award is a silver bar pin with raised letters which is obtained by engaging in five sports. A block T is the next award, available to people who have completed the requirements for ten sports. The top and special award is a loving cup with WRA and the recipient's name engraved upon the side. A girl qualifies for this award by receiving 15 credits in different sports.

Once more TU Interfraternity Council demonstrated its importance by adding more phases to its program. Two Saturdays were spent by fraternity men in moving and cleaning the new headquarters of the Mental Hygiene Center. In addition to the annual smoker for rushees, the Council sponsored Men's Songfest and the traditional IFC sports program.

Secretary-treasurer Bill Koester attended a national Interfraternity Council meeting in Denver, Colorado. Another delegate represented the Council at a meeting at Kent State. Tom Zraik served as president this year; Dean Donald S. Parks was the adviser.

panhellenic council

Panhellenic Council, the governing body of the eight women's fraternities at the University of Toledo, consists of one senior and one junior representative from each sorority. These representatives work together to provide prospective pledges with the background needed for an understanding of greek life. Helen Szyrman served as Council president; Sue Riedeman was secretary; and Annette Byrn was treasurer. Dean M. Kathryn Schwab was the adviser.

Members of Panhellenic Council completed their busy year with the annual banquet. The year had been a series of successful events which were the result of much thought and hard work. The tea for rushees, the open houses, the workshops during Greek Week, and the initiation of a bowling league were major undertakings of the Council. The bowling league was organized to allow sorority women to compete on mixed teams.

sigma pi delta

"The Loyalty Song" of Sigma Pi Delta portrays truth, faith and beauty, the ideals by which the sorority was established. Many of its members worked to illustrate this loyalty by achieving individual honors . . . members such as Delores Goldberg, who was a senator, Phi Gamma Mu prexy and vice president of Pi Delta Phi; Harriett Liebes, president of Fine Arts and president of Mu Phi Epsilon; and Helen Szyrman, this year's PanHel president Loyalty is also found in the sorority members as they worked together to make their projects a success. Their "Crystal Mist" dance presented at Christmas time and an All-Sorority fashion show during Greek Week were just a few of the activities which helped the spirit of sisterhood blossom in each of the members' hearts. Loyalty is a most important quality to the Sigma Pi Delta sisters for through loyalty they establish friendship, sincerity, and a strong sisterhood.

The world was wonderful for Alpha Chi's as sisters who received honor for campus work . . . as Sue Riedeman, Jill Harshbarger, and Faye Cavese were tapped for Pepper's . . . as Shirley Talip, and Dianne Cartensen were elected to Senate . . . as Marilyn Pugh was crowned Pershing Rifles Queen . . . as Margaret O'Leary became a Sophomore Class officer . . . and as Sharon Weiss was chosen "outstanding Sophomore Woman" on the basis of scholarship.

Honor in campus activities, pride in fraternity sweethearts and queens, fun in social events, happiness in the strong bond of sisterhood certainly have given Alpha Chi's a wonderful world!

Hard work and the strong ties of sisterhood have been found in the members of the Theta Psi chapter as they claimed one of the trophies from their national office for achieving recognition in campus work. Such members as Jane Schultz, Who's Who member and Alpha Phi Gamma treasurer; Jae Newton, senator and president of Sigma Delta Pi; and Marilyn Inoue, dorm vice president, helped build once again a fine name for AOPi in campus activities. The girls in the red blazers were also found working hard on their float as they captured a top position and as they raised money for their national philanthropic project, frontier nursing service, by car-hopping. They relaxed during Christmas at their Rose Ball and the orphan's party with Theta Chi. But besides the hours of work and the times of fun, the strong bonds of sisterhood grew each day as the members proudly wore their pins for AOPi, and remained "friends as the years go by."

"Chi Omega Yours Forever" rings through the heart of every Chi O girl. Sisterhood, pride, and happiness are all attributes of a Chi Omega. Sisterhood was always present as Chi O's worked together . . . such as working together to win Songfest. Pride was found for such sisters as Ann Gee, University Theatre prexy; Claudette Haddad, OSEA president and senator; Linda Baker, Peppers president and class officer; senators Bev Knisely and Rosalie Louviaux; and class officers, Binnie Harrison and Marcia Cuddeback. Happiness, another attribute, filled every Chi Omega's heart as four members were tapped to Peppers and six to Who's Who; as Jeanne Singlar won a place in the Homecoming court; and as Jodi Sanderson became a Pershing Rifles attendant. Sisters found happiness as they dined and danced at the Christmas formal. These are the reasons why a Chi Omega pledges herself forever when she wears her "Lucky X" and horseshoe.

Nancy Ohler Metzger, Sharon Bartley and Sue Noe followed the Pi Phi arrow as it brought them the honor of being elected to the 1957 Homecoming Court. The golden arrow brought happiness to its members as they danced and dined at their annual Christmas formal, as they frolicked at their pledge-active party and as sisters were serenaded as new fraternity sweethearts. The good right arm of Coach Patterson and the whirling knees of the tricycle rider led the Pi Phi's to an exciting victory in the Sig Alph Olympics this year. The dancing Pi Phi's freezing in ruffled pink skirts added color to the Homecoming parade. Cottage brought a week of fun with two singers harmonizing in the "Mission of St. Augustine" and another sister repeating her favorite expression "kissy" to the hours. A candle being passed in a circle of members brought happiness. Crowning that "perfect lady" at the Backwards party brought laughter from Pi Phi's (gentlemen for the night) and their dates. The fun, excitement, and the happy memories are just a part of the ingredients that make a perfect life for all the Pi Beta Phi sisters.

Zetas heeded the call and the result was worth-while activities on campus and in service and social projects. At Christmas the sisters collected clothing for a needy family; when Easter arrived they donated a food basket to another family. Zeta's gave a scholarship to a deserving woman. The Gamma Eta chapter will also remember their social events: time well spent at the progressive dinner-dance, the mothers and daughters tea, the Zeta weekend, and the annual spring formal. The campus benefited from the work of the Zeta members. Mary Lou Hubbard served as vice-president of LSA; Fran Rice was the organization's secretary. The president of the YWCA was Karen Fortune. "I love the pin you let me wear" has a special meaning to all Kappa Delta's. All know how much the green and the grey love the pin for they have built a strong sisterhood filled with lasting memories . . . remembrances of fun such as the Pledge Turnabout Day and the Christmas party with the tree struck by scolioses. How they loved the pin as they helped to install a new KD chapter at Miami and as they again took a top position in Sig Alph Olympics. They love the pin as they work together to help the University. As they see their sisters achieve honors in activities . . . such as Mary Henkel, Who's Who member and Pepper; Penny Burkey, president of the Ellen H. Richards club and the Rockettes secretary and treasurer; Kappa Delta Pi member, Pris Holey; Arlene Zielinski, WRA prexy; and five KD's as heads of sports in WRA, the KD's truly love the pin! The pearl and emerald en-crested pin every sister proudly wears displays her devoted love.

All for one and one for all is exemplified by the fine spirit of participation shown by the men of Alpha Phi Alpha. Despite their handicap of a small membership, the brothers have demonstrated a desire to have social events equal to any group on campus. The men gave their first annual campus wide party in the Student Union Lounge early this year. A tea was given to honor five candidates for the title of Sweetheart of Alpha Phi Alpha, the winner being announced at the Sweetheart Ball in the Armory. Other social events included the Hobo Hop and a Mother's Day tea.

Alpha Phi Alpha boasts of five of the leading athletes on campus. Al Vann and Willie Newson were valuable members of the varsity basketball team and Roy Hodge, Al Floyd and Norm Billingslea represented the fraternity on the TU football team. The brothers also finished third in IFC football, basketball and horseshoes this past year.

The men of AEPi are scholars, as shown by the trophies they have won for their scholastic records during the last eight years. In addition to hitting the books, the AEPi's found time to give many fine parties and dances such as a Butcher's Dinner, Monte Carlo party, a Hernando's Hideaway party, an alumni-active "basket-brawl" and a spring weekend. The men also celebrated the move to a new fraternity house at 2152 Robinwood this year.

Upsilon Tau chapter of AEPi had a large share of the campus leaders at the University of Toledo. Stan Odesky, vice-president of Student Senate and a member of Blue Key and Who's Who; Jerry Zlotnik, representative to Student Senate; Harvey Boardman, sales manager of the Blockhouse and treasurer of SUBG; and Jerry Dwosh, chairman of the 1957 Homecoming Dance represented the fraternity in campus affairs. The men of Alpha Epsilon Pi proved that they are tough to beat when the chips are down.

AEPI antics this year included a trip to New York City by Jerry Dwosh and Bob Friedman. They made enough commotion in the audience of the "Tonight" television show to have the TV cameras focused on them for a minute. Of course, being AEPI's, they took advantage of the situation and had a sign ready to advertise their fraternity — they figured that a rushee might be watching.

"Turnpike cruiser" Ed Brody made a "speedy" trip from New Jersey to Toledo in slightly over 56 hours. It seems that Ed and his riders had all sorts of trouble on the way home and wound up calling the brothers of AEPI for assistance.

"The cause is hidden; the results well known" is a motto well-fitted to the men from Beta Rho chapter. The results were many this year as shown during Homecoming when the Alpha Sig candidate, Patty Rankin of Delta Delta Delta, was crowned 1957 Homecoming Queen. The Sigs also presented their annual All-Sorority tea, the Apache dance, an annual spaghetti dinner, and two formals. The Sig keglers represented the fraternity's athletic program by leading the IFC Bowling League.

Leadership was the keynote of the school year for the men in the red jackets. Jack Henson, president of the Student Senate; Tom Zraik, president of the Interfraternity Council and a member of Blue Key Honorary; Jerry Schomp, president of the Young Republicans Club and copy editor of the Collegian; Bob Savage, a student senator; Jack Sharkey, vice-president of SUBG; and Alan Miller were all named to Who's Who.

Variety was the spice of an Alpha Sig's life in 1957-1958. From the time of the rush "work party" when several rushees livened things up by painting a room already decorated with beautiful scotch-plaid wallpaper bright red, floor and all, to the time when the "TU youth gang" accidentally got caught by the cops while taking George Koury for a ride, there was never a dull moment. Jim Schwyn also kept things going — especially at Wayne University. The Sigs were really marching this year, as they have been in the past.

He who is Phi Psi can well be proud of it. This group of men can boast of two of the best formals held by any fraternity on campus. Last spring the men of Ohio Eta danced to the music of Billy May at Cedar Point; this year's Christmas formal was at the exclusive Sunningdale Country Club. The mock "Initiation party," at which the brothers' dates performed typical pledge activities, gained additional notice around campus. A roaring New Year's Eve party that no Phi Psi brother will ever forget was staged in the confines of LeRoy's.

The Phi Psi's finished in second place in Men's Songfest competition last year and did a creditable job in all athletic events throughout the year. Tam Townsend of Pi Beta Phi was chosen as the Phi Psi candidate for the 1957 Homecoming elections. A future campus leader, Matt Kolb, also served as president of the Freshman Class with distinction. It was another big year for Phi Psi.

The Pikes reached their peaks during this year by winning the IFC football and badminton championships at the very beginning of the school year. Last spring they also carried away the IFC basketball and tennis titles. It seems that they just won't give anyone else on campus a chance. The Pike fraternity house at 2309 Lawrence Avenue holds an ambitious bunch of guys as shown by the many social events given by the PiKA's this year. Roasts, a picnic for orphans, a Suppressed Desire party, and two formals highlighted the social year for the men of Pi Kappa Alpha.

Marcia Fanelly of Delta Delta Delta was PiKA's candidate for the Homecoming Queen title and Marilyn Heinrich Stapleton of Chi Omega was chosen as the Pike's Dream Girl at the annual spring formal. Campus leaders included Bill Williams, a member of Blue Key; Jerry Morrow, associate editor of the Collegian; and Dale McVicker, a member of the varsity wrestling team.

The Pikes are tough and so are the requirements for membership. Dale McVicker, a TU varsity wrestler, served as pledge master during the second semester; you can be sure that no one got the best of him. A good fraternity like Pi Kappa Alpha can afford to make it tough on a guy who wants to wear a garnet and gold jacket with pride. At TU sporting events the Pikes can be seen waving their confederate flags and shouting "shake 'em up." School spirit has always been a keynote with the men of Pi Kappa Alpha.

The friendly fraternity, Pi Kappa Phi, placed the emphasis on brotherhood with their pledge class this year. This attitude toward their pledge class fits in well with the prevailing spirit at the Pi Kap house on West Bancroft Street. Major events scheduled this year by the men from Beta Iota chapter included an orphan's party, a Christmas formal, the Pi Kap spring formal entitled the Rose Ball, and a money-raising turkey dinner given on November 14. Charla Kinney of Alpha Chi Omega was chosen to represent the fraternity in this year's Homecoming Queen elections.

Outstanding Pi Kap men on campus included Dick Sharman, senator; Ron Duvendack, president of the Student Union Board of Governors and vice-president of the Junior Class; Dan Duvendack, photographer for the Collegian and Blockhouse; and Klaus Raueiser, number one man on the TU tennis team. The Pi Kaps certainly got their money's worth out of college life this year.

No one has more fun than a Pi Kap. Pi Kappa Phi won only two games in the IFC football league last fall, but they had more fun playing football together than any other team in the league. Their float was completed in the early hours of Homecoming day, and although it didn't win any prizes, everybody had a great time stuffing napkins and trying to visualize just what it would look like when finished. The Pi Kaps don't win many scholarship awards, but they'd be quick to inform you that they have never carried away the sub-scholarship jug. The Pi Kaps are a proud and fun-loving group of fraternity guys.

There is music wherever there is harmony could well be the slogan for Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. This smoothly-run organization boasts of one of the finest combos in Toledo. In addition to having a great combo, the men from 2224 Warren Street thrilled a huge audience at Men's Songfest last year with a performance that won them the first place trophy—the second songfest victory in the last two years.

The annual Sig-Alph Olympics, won by Pi Beta Phi this year, once again proved to be one of the top events at TU. SAE's Hobo party, Black and White formal, orphans' party, and Freshman Women's tea also received campus-wide acclaim. The SAE's did all right on Homecoming, too — taking fourth place with their float and having their queen candidate, Nancy Ohler of Pi Beta Phi, in the Queen's Court. The SAE's are accustomed to coming in like a lion, but never seem to go out like a lamb.

The house with a heart opened its red door to 22 pledges this fall. A month later the buttons popped off the red vests of 60 proud Sig Ep men as Jerry Mercer stepped forward to receive two trophies for their winning Homecoming float. Special honor was given to their queen candidate, Jeanne Singlar of Chi Omega, who appeared in the Queen's Court. The men of Ohio Iota also placed second in the IFC sports competition and third in Men's Songfest the previous semester.

Sig Eps Jerry Walz, a member of Blue Key, Jim Green, a member of Student Senate, and Allan Bosworth were named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. John Wargo was elected president of the Sophomore Class, and Dick Cosgrove served as a student senator. Under the leadership of President Mel Hartzel, it appears that the men of Sigma Phi Epsilon made 1958 another big year.

When the sorority sisters of Alpha Chi Omega became alarmed by the early morning antics of some teen-age visitors at cottage last June, Duane valiantly volunteered to wait in his car for the young delinquents. Duane soon tired of his chore, fell asleep, and woke up after the girls had already chased the young gang out of the vicinity.

Tau Kappa Epsilon added something new to campus tradition this year. At the football games the familiar clang of the Teke bell and the raspy honk of the fraternity horn mixed with the hoarse bellows of the fraternity members as they cheered the varsity on to victory. Gamma Nu fraters were especially proud that their 1957 Sweetheart, Sue Noe of Pi Beta Phi was a member of this year's Homecoming Court.

The Tekes opened the campus's social calendar with the eighth annual street dance. Rushing passed very successfully and the fraternity moved toward one of its finest Christmas formals. The New Year's blast, the serenades for the seasonal sweethearts, the stag parties, and finally the outstanding social function of the year, the Festival of the Red Carnation, made up a well-rounded social program.

The men in the bright red jackets are always tough to beat when it comes to athletics. They proved this again by winning the IFC softball championship, placing first in tennis and ping-pong, and carrying off the 1956-57 IFC Sports Participation Trophy. The versatile brothers also placed first and second in scholarship last year.

Theta Chi's parties got bigger and better this year with the addition of 22 pledges. Gay times were had at the Rhapsody in White annual mid-winter formal, a staggering Prohibition party, an orphans' Christmas party with the APO's, and numerous other stag and date parties during the year. Semi-weekly pot-lucks for the hungry men of Delta Theta seemed to be the highlight of the past year. LANDMARKS OF PROGRESS...

in TOLEDO—Glass Center of the World

More than 1,000 Toledo-area residents work in the O-I General offices—directing activities of 27,000, coast to coast.

These four buildings reflect the technological achievements of Owens-Illinois Glass Company, whose physical growth has left these indelible impressions on the industrial face of Toledo.

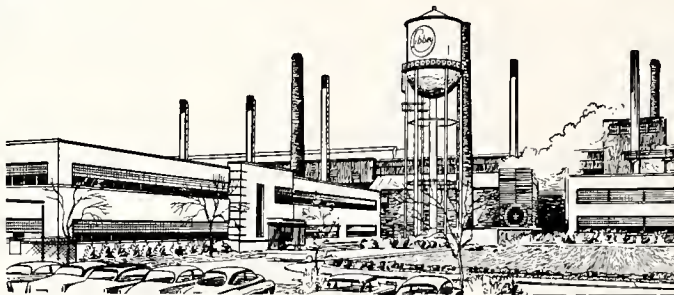

Duraglas Center
14th & Adams

Customer service facilities, staffed by nearly 500, offer Owens-Illinois customers the advantages of specialized package design, product and packaging research, and marketing services.

Owens-Illinois Building
Madison & St. Clair

Libbey Glass Division Plant
Ash & Champlain

Home of fine Libbey table glassware, this manufacturing plant employs more than 1,200 and is one of 31 Owens-Illinois plants across the nation.

Owens-Illinois Technical Center
1700 North Westwood

The world's largest and most complete glass research facility, housing 500 scientists, engineers and technicians.

Glass
Has Made A Difference

Now is the time to reflect upon the "good ole' days" in school—the many friends, your favorite teachers, sports and dances and parties. But when looking at today's school architecture, we think you'll agree that glass has made a difference!

Here's picture-proof that school corridors don't have to be dark and dreary tunnels. No longer must walls be solid and opaque. Today, more attention is being paid to daylight and view.

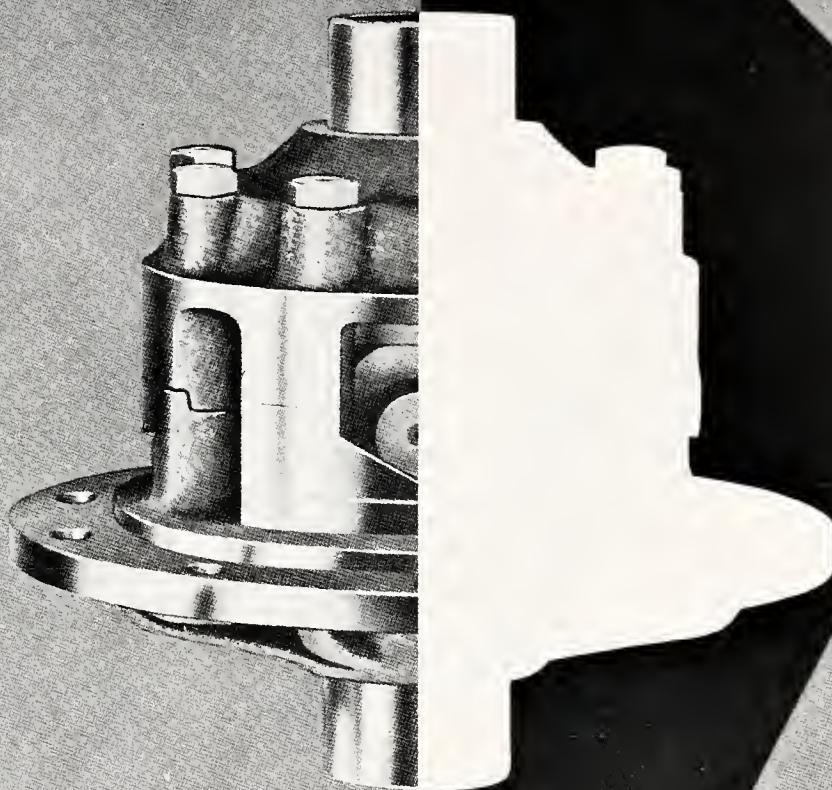

When reflecting upon the advantages of this glass age, we think you'll agree that the "good new days" are better.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The staff of the 1958 Blockhouse wishes to thank:

The E. A. O'Reilly Photography Studio

Dan Duvendack, Photographer

The J. R. Wright Printing Co.

Toledo Colortype Co.

The Superior Typesetting Co.

The DeLuxe Craft Mfg. Co.

And the many others without whose help and understanding we could never have published the 1958 Blockhouse.

editor's note

In 1924 the Blockhouse was a paper-backed bulletin, six inches wide, nine inches long, containing 52 pages. In 1958 this is the Blockhouse — the thirty-sixth edition, nine inches wide, 12 inches long, containing 248 pages. A lot has happened to both TU and the Blockhouse in that time. As the University has expanded to include six colleges, a junior college, and a graduate school, the Blockhouse has expanded to cover that growth. Each year a few more pages, a different printing process, more pictures were added as each year the Blockhouse sought to provide a better way to record the year for each of you.

To each of you this year 1957-1958 will mean something different. Whether your interest was focused on the academic, the social, the extra-curricular, the athletic, or the fraternal side of college life you will remember this year as one of the years in your college life.

If it was your freshman year you were overeager and sometimes lost. Things seemed to happen too fast. You were amazed by the nonchalance of the upperclassmen and a little afraid to enter this new and bewildering life. As a sophomore you could relax and enjoy the aspects of college. For now you had your freshman year behind you; in contrast to the past year, you tried to do too much. Confidence and an occasional feeling of boredom marked your junior year. You put off doing things and socialized as much as possible. Your senior year began with a resurging interest in study. As the year progressed you became increasingly aware of the approaching end.

For each of you we have tried to capture your activities, your feelings, your college life in the year 1957-1958. To do this would have been impossible without the help of many, many people. To our adviser, to the people who have worked on the staff, to the many people who somehow "got dragged in," and to former editors may I sincerely say thank you for being so understanding and for being there when I needed you most.
